August 14, Date Set For Opening Bids For Center

Civic Committee Re-Elects Officers On Tuesday

San Diego city purchasing department has set the date of Tuesday, August 14 for the opening of the bids for the construction of the Ocean Beach Memorial Community Recreation Center at the corner of Santa Monica and Ebers. The bids will be opened in the city council chambers of the Civic Center at 10 a. m.

In view of the large number of bidders expected the architects prepared about 20 copies of the plans and specifications. Construction is expected to start soon after the contract is let and the plan is to complete the structure soon after the first of the new year.

A re-organizational meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. C. Muchmore, 4962 Saratoga Ave., of the Community-Civic committee, the committee which had charge of the campaign to get the city to buy the site and construct the building and of the financial drive that raised and turned over $7,000 to the city to help pay for the $57,000 structure contemplated.

Rev. James F. Roberts was re-elected chairman of the committee, Mrs. D. C. Muchmore vice chairman, Rollin E. Reed treasurer and Mrs. Warren Meade secretary. Other members of the committee attending were Dr. Alfred Sands, Martin Murphy, Milton Lancaster and Mrs. Enar Olson.

Local organizations and groups already having representation on the committee are the Kiwanis club, the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion post, Elementary school PTA, Dana Junior High PTA., Ocean Beach Woman's club, Ocean Beach Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, and the Ocean Beach Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal churches.

Commenting on the Tuesday meeting, the chairman stated that the "committee invite representation of one delegate each from all other Ocean Beach groups that are interested, with the idea of making this as near a 100 per cent Ocean Beach community project as possible. From now on the committee will meet periodically to make the plans for the operation and use of the building. Please contact the chairman, phone Bayview 5509.

"In general the plan is to include social, educational and cultural as well as recreational activities. We officers earnestly hope that the enlarged committee asked for will assist in the planning and the responsibility of making this project a success. "Tentatively the plan thus far is to include in the use of the building activities that will appeal to and interest all age levels of Ocean Beach people, and in the case of the youths the committee will seek to have representatives of young people to sit in with the committee and help

Point Loma Park Suggested By Knox

Mayor Harley E. Knox, at the city council meeting Tuesday, made the suggestion that San Diego ought to have a new city park to be located on Point Loma. Councilman Chas. Wincote agreed and the matter was referred to a conference meeting of the council.

A request had come from Contractor Walter Trepte that the city sell him an acre portion of Pueblo lot No. 106 which happens to be a Point Loma location that overlooks San Diego bay. Trepte owns a higher viewpoint that is deemed by City Planning Director Glenn Rick to be ideally situated for public park view purposes.

A possible trade with Trepte was suggested by Councilman Paul Hartley. In any event, before the council let go of the acre, it will take steps to determine whether a better site can be obtained for a park, it was agreed. Trepte recently purchased the high point from Arthur Marston, San Diego merchant, the council was told.

COOK AND PALS OF B-17 "NASTY NELLIE" WERE REAL LUCKY

T/Sgt. Luther G. Cook came home Saturday. Only 21, one and a half years overseas, 30 missions, three one year as gunnery instructor, 111 points and numerous decorations, is the outline of the Point Loma high school graduate who still looks like a boy in his teens. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook of 1989 Ebers St.

Two experiences stand out in his career with the Eighth Army Air Corps, 487th Bomb group, based in England. For 29 missions he was ball turret gunner of the famous ship "Nasty Nellie," and on his 30th and last mission as a combat gunner luck remained with him and his pals for they switched to another B-17. And while Cook was on this 30th mission, the "Nasty Nellie" on another mission the same day over Germany, with an entirely different crew, was crashed into by a Focke-Wulf Nazi plane, whose pilot had been killed, and the B-17 exploded in mid-air. Cook believes that most, if not all, of the new crew of the "Nasty Nellie" were killed.

The other highlight experience was on the "Nasty Nellie's" first mission over Berlin when the ship was so badly shot up by German fighter pilots that two engines were shot out and though the controls on the third were put out of commission, the crew flew back safe with only one engine operating under control.

Cook's 30th mission was on May 8, 1944, just one year before the final surrender of Germany, and he was then assigned to duty as a gunnery instructor at the air base in England. While there he distinguished himself by designing and building a "blister" hangar for the advanced training of airplane gunners, with cameras as a feature—a design that proved to be a great improvement over previous hangars of its kind.

Closing Program For Bible School Set For Tonight

Closing program for the Point Loma Methodist Vacation Bible school will be held tonight (Friday) at the church, starting at 7:30, to which the parents and friends of all the 120 children enrolled are cordially invited. A worship service like that carried on each day at the Vacation school this week and last week will be conducted by Rev. James F. Roberts. There will be a program by the children and a display of the handwork in which they have been taught at the school. The junior choir, with Mrs. Esther Roberts and Mrs. Ardel Williams in charge, will sing.

Another feature will be the awarding of prizes to the children who have done the best in the school, the awards to be for attendance, for promptness, for bringing their Bibles, for excellence in memorizing verses and for conduct. The junior high school girls who have been assisting the teachers in the school also will be honored. The six girls assisting were Virginia Ahlgren, Dorothy DeVillviss, Joan Lyman, Beverly Hoy, Marian Mishler and Irma Van Gessel.

Mrs. Esther Roberts is the school superintendent and the faculty includes Rev. Roberts and Donald Hanisfer and Mmes. Edith Stewart, R. E. Wenzel, Leda Roson, Ardel Williams, Elaine Van Duesen, Loretta Greason, La Vern Smith, Harry Daniels and Frances Stanifer.

A picnic for the children was held at the church Thursday noon. The children brought their lunches and ate together in the patio after the forenoon session. Drinks and dessert were furnished by the church.

Bank of America, here, has added a man clerk. "We now have four men," declares Manager R. E. Reed. So the 16-to-1 ratio of women to men no longer pertains in the bank. The new clerk is Dorsey Daniel, a discharged Navy man, who was in service 32 months, and overseas for 19 months. Mrs. Mildred Shaw, who has been with her serviceman husband in Yosemite National Park the past two months, has returned to her position as bank teller in the bank here.

ment over previous hangars of its kind.

Listing his citations only after prompting from his mother, Cook said they included the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, ATO ribbon with one star, ETO ribbon with six stars, (one for each major battle in which he was engaged) and the Presidential Unit citation with one cluster.

Leaving Europe for home on July 8 he flew the Atlantic in a B-17, stopping off enroute in Iceland and Labrador before landing at Boston. He is on a 30-day furlough and though he has sufficient points for a discharge he expects to be assigned to Air Corps duty as an Air Corps gunnery instructor in the States.

After graduation from Point Loma High Cook enlisted in the Air Corps on November 7, 1942. His father, Fred Cook, is employed by the Navy as a machinist on North Island.

Jean Doyle Wins Women's Singles Title In Tennis

Jean Doyle, Point Loma high school star tennis player, added to her previous laurels Sunday when she won the finals in the women's singles play of the 29th annual La Jolla invitation tennis tournament. Preliminary play was carried on during the Friday and Saturday previous.

In winning the title, Jean defeated Margaret Varner of El Paso, Texas in straight sets 6-4 and 6-4. She had lost previously to Miss Varner in the semi-finals of the junior women's singles. Miss Varner went on to win the finals in the junior women's singles.

With Miss Varner as her partner, Jean also was on the doubles team that took the championship Sunday in the women's doubles from Yvonne Therkorn of Whittier, Calif. and Ruth Kayser of La Jolla.

As a result of their victory, the Doyle-Varner team is now on a trip east to play in the national championships at Philadelphia, where the same team won the national junior girls doubles a year ago.

In the junior men's singles, Ben Cendali won his way into the finals, where he lost to Bob Kohler of Whittier, 6-3, 8-6 and 6-4.

Ocean Beach Man Slashed By Negro

Lynn H. Boone, who gives his address as box 441, Ocean Beach, was slashed by a negro named Lieutenant Lackey, 26, Tuesday last week in an argument at North Island, where both are employed, according to a F. B. I. complaint filed before U. S. Commissioner George R. Baird, the charge against Lackey being assault within a government reservation.

Coronado officers investigating reported that Boone was cut on the neck, body and hand with a knife after he had objected to Lackey forcing his way into a luncheon line at the Naval Air Station.

Co-owner Al Keogh of the Keogh circuit of four theatres of which the Strand theatre here is one, is reported convalescing from another operation he underwent at Scripps hospital in La Jolla about three weeks ago.

U. S. May Provide Finance To Cure Beach Erosion

Ocean Beach C of C Delegates Attend Public Hearing

If House Resolution 2303 is passed the U. S. will assume the responsibility for beach loss due to erosion, Congressman Gordon L. McDonough of California revealed at the hearing held by the congressional sub-committee on beach erosion at the Civic center Saturday forenoon. Attending the hearing from Ocean Beach were President J. R. Lowmes and Secretary Forest Whedon of the Chamber of Commerce and Frank F. Swan.

Congressman Henry D. Larcade of Louisiana, acting chairman of the congressional sub-committee, presided and the other members of the sub-committee present were Reps. Herbert McGlinchey (D-Pa.), William C. Cole (R-Mo.), James Geelan (D-Conn.), Homer D. Angell (R-Ore.), Clyde Doyle (D-Calif.) and Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif.).

Mayor Harley Knox declared that if congress decided to provide financial aid to combat beach erosion that the beaches adjacent to this city wish to be included as recipients of such aid.

Councilman G. C. Cray told the congressmen of the importance of the beaches for recreation. He said that San Diego city has only 19 miles of shoreline, of which 13 miles are privately owned and only 4.2 miles are safe and sandy beach. He said that U. S. expenditures for recreation is way out of proportion to that spent for rivers and harbors when the number using them is considered. He said the need to provide usable beaches for recreation for the increasing number of sailors in San Diego is becoming more and more apparent.

City Planning Engineer Glenn A. Rick submitted a detailed booklet of information on the Mission Bay project and said that "within five years after the completion of the project more than 3,000 small craft would be using Mission Bay," basing his prediction on results of a 4,000 card questionnaire that he had sent out to interested parties. Wallace Carlson Reported Killed In Action Apr. 14

Pfc. Wallace B. Carlson of Ocean Beach has been reported killed in action near Lenoa, Germany April 14, according to a telegram and letter received here by his mother, Mrs. Helen Carlson DeSoto, 4643 Voltaire St. The communication stated that he had previously been listed as missing in action.

Mrs. DeSoto also had received a letter written June 19 by Lieut. Clifford A. Thompson, personnel officer of Company E of the 18th Infantry, of which Carlson was a member, stating that Pfc. Carlson "was missing in action April 14 in the vicinity of St. Andreasberg, Germany. He was then acting as a scout for his company during an attack upon an enemy strong point situated on a hill in that district. As his platoon moved forward they were met by fire from an enemy vehicle. A check of personnel made after reaching their destination revealed Carlson missing and further check of terrain over which he had passed failed to give any clue to his whereabouts."

Pfc. Carlson was only 19 and was an only child. He was born in Crosby, Minn., Aug. 10, 1925. He came west with his parents to Ocean Beach when he was 5 years old and this community has been his home ever since. He attended the Ocean Beach Elementary school and Point Loma high school and was in his senior year when he went to Consolidated for a few months before entering the service Nov. 22, 1943. He was home on furlough in June 1944 and had been overseas for five months.

Bereft are his mother, Mrs. Helen Carlson De Soto of Ocean Beach, his father, Peter Carlson of Ramona and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pitt of 4643 Voltaire St.

Business Men O K Plan For Clerks Courtesy Contest

Ocean Beach Business Men's club at the close of their social session and luncheon held in the Masonic hall Wednesday noon approved a store clerks courtesy contest that is being inaugurated here by the Strand theatre with the cooperation of the Ocean Beach News.

Don Thomson, business manager of the Keogh theatre circuit, the originator, explained the plan, stating that prizes will be awarded each week not only to the clerk but to the customer who reports the act of store courtesy and writes the best letter telling of the incident. The merchants are being asked to contribute merchandise to the winning customer and clerk and the Strand Theatre offers two tickets to each. The Ocean Beach News will contribute three months free subscription to The News for each winner.

Cards announcing the contest and declaring its rules will be placed in each store participating, Thomson explained.

C of C Asks For Restoration Here Of Shore Patrol

Local Crime Status Gets Worse, Group Is Informed

The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce in a special meeting called Tuesday evening at the Ocean Beach Woman's clubhouse, took action asking for the restoration in Ocean Beach of the military patrol. Information had come to the civic group from the local police and from other sources, stating that crimes, particularly of rape, and malicious destruction of property has greatly increased in Ocean Beach since the shore patrol was taken off several weeks ago. Informants pointed out that unless the patrol is restored crime conditions are likely to get worse here since the word evidently has been spread abroad among the servicemen that policing of Ocean Beach, particularly of the business districts, where most of the depredations take place, has been cut to a minimum.

Action taken Tuesday authorized the secretary to prepare a petition to the commandant of the Eleventh Naval district, which was done at once. The petition, which was signed unanimously by every man present at the Business Men's weekly meeting Wednesday noon, reads as follows:

"We, the signators of this petition, being business men of the district of San Diego known as Ocean Beach, wish to call your attention to the most important need for restoring the regular military police patrol at Ocean Beach. Conditions which include disturbance of the peace and molestation and attack of women on the streets of Ocean Beach are known to be due to offenses committed by servicemen principally. These activities have reached the point where the city police protection and present roving shore patrol are inadequate to deal with the problem.

"We respectfully and urgently request therefore that immediate renewal of the activities of the shore patrol be made in Ocean Beach."

New Street Signs Will Be Installed

One of the best items of news that has come out of the Civic Center in a long time, particularly to strangers and newcomers to San Diego, is the announcement by City Manager Fred A. Rhodes that new street signs like those now in use in San Francisco will soon be installed in this city. He said that this means that the absurd and impractical method of lettering street names on curbs will be abandoned. Any newcomer to San Diego who has tried to get his bearings and to locate street addresses will be more than pleased to know that at last a sensible system of marking streets will be in vogue here.

Congressmen Inspect Beaches Here Friday

Ratio, About 1000 To One Of Grunion

The ratio was about 1000 hunting to one grunion caught, according to reports from the beach Wednesday night. The delectable small fish were supposed to run beginning at 10:30, but evidently someone "missed the boat" in making such prediction.

The view of hundreds of fishing parties on the beach with flash lights and the numerous bonfires and with the moon shining full overhead was a rare sight, report those who took part. Because of the numerous bonfires the night air also was warmer than usual.

Congress Seeks Data On Erosion Damage To Beach

Acting Chairman Henry D. Larcade of the congressional sub-committee on beach erosion that visited Ocean Beach last week announced Saturday at the public hearing the congressmen held at the Civic center that his committee would be glad to receive detailed information on erosion damage to property in Ocean Beach as well as on other beaches in this area.

Several years ago the then Ocean Beach Woman's club building was destroyed as well as other buildings by wave action and considerable public property was damaged. Likely there has been property damage in other years.

In view of the request of the congressional committee, The Ocean Beach News will be glad to transmit to this committee at Washington, D. C. all of such information that can be assembled here. All Ocean Beach parties having this information are urged to turn same in at the News office, 1922 Bacon St., soon as possible.

Mayor Knox Gives Pledge About Pier

While in Ocean Beach inspecting the fishing pier at the foot of Del Monte during the visit here of the congressional delegation Friday, Mayor Harley Knox pledged that the city administration would push the completion of the Del Monte fishing pier. He said the plan would be to extend the pier out 2,000 feet into the ocean in order to reach the best fishing waters at the kelp beds and that the plan would be to make the pier "T" shaped. Incidentally, he said that at the time he was a member of the city council he offered the motion for the city aid to the present structure that juts out 300 feet from shore.

Sound Pictures Of Sports Enjoyed By Kiwanians Tuesday

A program of entertainment featured the meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening. E. B. Vegely of the Standard Oil Co. of San Diego pleased with a series of sound pictures of outdoor sports, including two on fishing, one on geese hunting, and one on automobile racing. Milton Lancaster officiated as program chairman for the evening.

Another feature was the presentation of a minstrel show skit by Fred Edwards, Dan Moss and Al Hunt, three Kiwanians who are members of the cast that is staging the home talent minstrel show this week-end at Wallace Hall.

Visitors Tuesday were Lieut. Bruce Weston of the LaJolla club, Charles Bailey of the Alhambra, Calif. club; Jack Stevenson of Ocean Beach, a guest of Glenn Jones; and Sgt. Major J. B. Kelly, of the Marine Corps, a guest of Homer Gravelle.

Capt. Burritt S. Mills officiated as secretary in the absence of Harry Masters, who is in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Hegerle of 4519 Bermuda Ave., moved Wednesday to the residence at 1690 Cable St., which they have purchased.

Ocean Beach Men In Party Welcoming Visitors

Ocean Beach was on the itinerary of the congressional delegation that visited San Diego last week. Five of them, Congressman Homer Angell of Oregon, Herbert McGlinchey of Pennsylvania, James Geelan of Connecticut, Henry Larcade of Louisiana and Wm. C. Cole of Missouri, came out to Ocean Beach Friday afternoon. They were accompanied by county and city officials including Chairman Dave Bird and James Robbins of the county supervisors and Mayor Harley Knox and Councilman G. C. Cray. Others in the party were Kenneth Peel of the Los Angeles office of the U. S. Army engineers and Dr. H. U. Sverdrup of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Ocean Beach men who met the congressmen here were President J. R. Lowmes and Secretary Forest Whedon of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce, Rollin E. Reed, Wm. Don Thomson, Milton Lancaster, Rev. J. F. Roberts and Frank F. Swan. Most of the Ocean Beach delegation accompanied the congressmen on their entire trip to the beaches Friday afternoon, including Ocean Beach, Mission Beach, Pacific Beach, La Jolla and the Causeway over Mission Bay.

Inspection here started at the south end of Sunset Cliffs section of Ocean Beach, where the results of eroding action of the ocean waves, the wind and the wash from rains is most noticeable. Next they stopped at the fishing pier at the foot of Del Monte Ave. A long stop was made near the Ocean Beach police station, where City Planning Engineer Glenn A. Rick explained to the congressmen the property damage that had taken place along this section of the beach. He stated that the city had expended $47,000 for the installation of the rock wall.

Next stop was made at the north end of the bridge to Mission Beach, where Rick, Peel and Councilman Cray outlined the various features of the proposed $12,000,000 Mission Bay development. The cavalcade of cars, which were escorted all the way by traffic police, then followed as near the ocean shore line as possible through Mission Beach, Pacific Beach and La Jolla and stopped to inspect a seawall that was constructed a few years ago near the Scripps Institute.

Completing the tour two stops were made on the Causeway over Mission Bay, where Messrs. Rick and Peel further explained the Mission Bay project and particularly the 800-foot wide river channel that the army engineers are expected to have constructed for the federal government, the channel to control and direct the flood waters of the San Diego river, thereby carrying the flood suspended sand and silt out to the ocean.

Ocean Beach Group Attends A Legion District Meeting

Earl Shaw and Noel Swetland of Clyde A. Wright Post of the American Legion and Mrs. Roy W. Orrick and Mrs. Anna Neujahr of the Post's Legion Auxiliary were delegates to a meeting of the 22nd district of California of the American Legion, held in the recreation hall on Chestnut St., Sunday with the Old Town San Diego Legion Post as hosts.

The meeting was one of 25 held throughout the state in lieu of the annual state convention. F. Carl Sherwood of the DeWitt C. Mitchell Post 201 was elected district commander of the Legion for the coming year and Mrs. Mary Starkey of Escondido, district president of the Auxiliary.

The delegates passed resolutions favoring increased consideration for hospitalized service men and for increased allowances for widows and orphans of service men. There were forwarded to the state executive committee.

GOD IS MY CO-PILOT

By COL. ROBERT L. SCOTT
WNU Features.

CHAPTER IX: Burma is falling into the hands of the Japs. Flying over bombed and burned Chinese towns they land at Schwebo. Scott meets General Stilwell and his party.

CHAPTER X: Scott's group carries refugees out of Burma, heavily overloading the planes. He pays a visit to Gen. Chennault and tells him he is a fighter pilot and not a ferry pilot and is promised the next P-40 that arrives from Africa.

CHAPTER XI: Open season on Japs—the big adventure is near. Scott gets his first "Jap"—an army officer on the ground. He burns up some Jap trucks and a fuel dump.

CHAPTER XII: Scott goes on some strafing missions with his "Old Exterminator," as he has now nicknamed his Kittyhawk, and cuts a Jap battalion to bits.

CHAPTER XIII: The AVG are told they are to be inducted into the U. S. Army. Scott returns to India and continues his single ship raids on the Japs. He is now known back in the States as "the one man air force."

CHAPTER XIV: Col. Haynes is moved to China to head the bomber command under Gen. Chennault and Scott is left alone as commanding officer of the Ferry Command. Scott is ordered to report to Gen. Chennault in Kunming, China, as commanding officer of the 23rd Fighter Group.

CHAPTER XV: Col. Scott is ordered to proceed to the Kweilin area to take charge of fighter operations.

The pilot who is lost calls the radio station that he thinks is closest to him, and in code tells the trouble. The radioman tells him to circle the next town he passes for a few minutes. Down in that town, marked on his map with an unknown Chinese character, some member of this warning net sees him and reports one P-40 circling. In a few minutes the radio operator gets the report and tells the pilot: "You're reported over Lufeng—fly fifty-eight degrees at two hundred miles an hour and we'll have supper ready—we've got grits tonight—yeah."

One amusing but near-tragic instance of this orientation by means of the air-warning net happened about the time the AVG induction board came to China. Another fighter group commander had waited for several days over in India to come into China with a large flight of P-40E's. He finally came over on a transport and eventually got tired of waiting for the fighters. He didn't know that the weather was very bad in Burma, and that the monsoon winds from the South could take them so far off course in a few minutes that the entire flight might easily get lost.

After a long wait he came back to Assam in the transport and led his pilots towards Kunming. First of all, he corrected too much for the southerly wind, and in a very short time he was fifty miles South of his course and near two Japanese fields. His unashamed deputy leaders herded him to the North. And then the monsoon wind from out the Indian Ocean began to work on his navigation, and in another hour he was lost far to the North of the course. Night was falling, and the hills of North China were rising threateningly.

Then the net, if it hadn't justified its existence long before, would have begun to pay for itself. The leader called Kunming, and the operator there, a tough old former Navy man, heard him and gave the instructions: "Circle the first town you see." The group commander began to argue at once—said he didn't have enough gas to waste circling; but the AVG radio man talked him into doing it. Then the net reported, and Kunming operator said, "You're over Yangpi—fly 240 degrees for twenty minutes and you'll see the lake Kunming is on."

CHAPTER XVI

Well, the lost leader looked at his map and still couldn't see how he was North of the course and really past his destination. So he began to argue again. The old Navy operator stood the bickering as long as he could; then he "took over." With the initiative he had developed, he gave off some of the most classic advice that I've ever heard, and he gave it straight from the shoulder.

"Goddamit," he called, "who the hell's lost, you or me? Now you fly the course I'm telling you and we'll meet you."

And so another man of the Occident failed to change the East, and in failing learned a little and became a little more like the East. It saved twenty-five airplanes.

People have asked me what made me able to shoot down my first Jap, and probably they expected me to say that I had practised on tow targets until I could put every shot in the black. Or that I had been to all the schools from Leavenworth to Mount Holyoke, and had learned tactics. Or perhaps that I was better at piloting than the Jap. I must have disappointed them. For if any one thing more than another enabled me to meet the Japanese fighter pilots in the air and shoot them down while I escaped, it was an American girl.

First of all, I don't know exactly what democracy is, or the real, common-sense meaning of a republic. But as we used to talk things over in China, we all used to agree that we were fighting for The American Girl. She to us was America, Democracy, Coca Colas, Hamburgers, Clean Places to Sleep, or The American Way of Life.

To hurriedly explain this theory, let me say that I learned to fly as anybody else did—with an instructor in a flying school. That is, I learned to take a trainer off and to land it. But to correct this, I learned to be a combat pilot by flying all over the Western Hemisphere to see an American Girl. I went from every State in the Union to Georgia to see her. I went from South America to Panama to see the same girl. I went from Central America to the Canal Zone to see her. All on government missions certainly, but that mission was more to develop myself into being a pilot who could navigate over the world, or fly instruments when I had to, or fly at night, than it was to carry out the routine flight that I was on. I always imagined that my sole duty was to get through with the ship safely. I knew that if I could get through in peace-time I could get through in war. Then if I could fly the ship as an expert, I would only have to point the guns at the right place and the enemy would go down.

To prove this, I go on and answer the question further by saying, "No, ma'am, I didn't learn it in school. Why, my greatest victory in the air was on a cross-country—that's what we call a navigation flight." And here's the story.

Early one morning—July 31, 1942—I took off from Kunming headquarters to return to the eastern theater at Kweilin and Hengyang. High mountains are on this five-hundred-mile route to the East, and I went on top of the overcast right away. From my twenty-thousand-foot altitude I kept looking down at the solid cloud layer just below me, and I guess that subconsciously I prayed there would be breaks at my destination. There were mountains at my destination too, and it's still not the best feeling to have to dive through overcast into hilly country with a fighter ship—or with any ship, for that matter.

As the minutes rolled by and the miles spun behind the P-40, I still didn't see the welcome shadow of a hole in the clouds. In just a little over two hours I arrived over the point above the clouds where Lingling should have been. You see this point was in flat country, and between Kweilin and Hengyang. By intentionally making an error to the North I knew at least what side of Kweilin I was on, and knew furthermore that I could go down much more safely there than farther South in the mountains that surrounded Kweilin.

I called Lingling over the radio, but before I could get a reply, Sasser, the operator at Kweilin, broke in with an "alert" warning. He said: "Chinese net reports noise of enemy airplanes coming up the Canton-Hengyang Railway at high altitude. Last report Section A-5." Looking at my map, which was marked off in squares with letter and numeral co-ordinates, I saw that I was very close to that section. But at the same time I was really not oriented as to position, and was into the last twenty or so gallons of my fuel. Here was a chance at last to intercept enemy planes; by the time the P-40's from our fighter stations could get there, the enemy would have gone on with their mission. What was I to do?

As I considered it for the second that was necessary to make up my mind, I remember thinking that my loss of this ship would be justified if I shot a Japanese ship down, and if I was out of fuel above the clouds I could dive down and land in a rice paddy. That would be an even trade. But I guess my ego thought I could shoot the whole formation down—and the exchange of the Japanese flight for my one ship would certainly be favorable to our side.

But my mind was already made up. Even then I was on my way towards the position that I thought was Section A-5, there on the pretty white tops of the overcast. Calling to Sasser, I told him I thought I was just East of Lingling and very close to the Jap formation, and was going to try to intercept. I dove down until I was just over the tops of the clouds, at 17,600 feet. I dodged in among the tops of the fluffy cumulus, looking ahead for the first sign of the black silhouette of an airplane. As the enemy ships had been reported heading North, I estimated where they should now be and flew to intercept them.

I'll never forget. I had just looked at the fuel gauge for the hundredth time, and as my eyes left the instrument board to go back to my diligent search, I saw the clock, and the hour was 9:08. At that instant I saw an enemy airplane—one silhouette. From that second on, I knew I moved automatically. I saw that on our courses we were going to meet head-on.

The other ship was now much nearer, and closing fast. It was a twin-engine bomber and was right down low over the clouds, just as I was. Down below now were holes in the overcast, and I imagine the bomber was trying to locate its position to go down through. He didn't see my ship, and I kept hidden by the clouds as much as possible. I felt my left hand go to the instrument panel to turn on the gun-switch. Then, as I looked at the red switch, I saw that I had evidently turned it on without being conscious of the act. I moved it off, then back on again, as a kind of test. I turned the gun-sight rheostat on and got the lighted sight reflected on my glass armor in front of my eyes. The enemy ship came on, "mushrooming" in my vision; our relative speed of approach was perhaps five hundred miles an hour. By now I had shoved everything forward on the throttle quadrant—the engine was pulling full power, and the prop pitch was set to high speed, low pitch.

Then, just before I pressed the trigger, I saw the other planes, two enemy fighters above and behind the bomber. I had evidently not been seen by any of the three ships, for after all I was coming on very close to the clouds. But I nearly stopped my aiming from the surprise of seeing them. They were about three thousand feet above the bomber, and were weaving back and forth in loose formation. I saw the square wing-tip that told they were Navy Zeros. There flashed in my mind the warning that I had heard from General Chennault about attacking bombers when there was fighter escort. Everyone in China had always neglected to consider the odds on the side of the enemy—they were used to that. Personally, I just didn't know enough about aerial combat to worry much, or I might have gone on anyway. My six guns would neutralize their four; I could shoot the bomber down and dive into the clouds before the Zeros could get me.

I really don't know whether I thought it all out or not, for by now I was shooting. The tracers seemed to go towards the enemy all right, but now the Jap came into my sight so fast that I don't know whether they hit him then or not. I dove right under the nose of the twin-engine ship, and I'll bet he was one surprised pilot. I noted that he had started to turn and maybe that made me miss.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nickolson and four children of Los Angeles are visiting this week at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Orrick of 4542 Bermuda Ave.

Miss Gertrude Johnson has just returned from two weeks in New Mexico, where she visited her fiancé, Cpl. Walter C. Patterson, who is stationed at Clovis Army Air Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of 1673 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. are the parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday, July 24, at Mercy Hospital. Both mother and child are doing well, reports Mr. Williams. The little lad weighed 7 pounds 6½ ounces at birth.

Mrs. Mary E. Back, a former resident of Ocean Beach, has returned from Santa Monica to again make her home here. She has purchased a residence at 5018 Del Monte Ave. Previously she had lived here for 18 years and recently had been with her daughter at Santa Monica.

The 6-year-old Coronado boy who was hit and severely injured by a rock one day last week was the son of Fred Monson, a former resident of Ocean Beach, a civilian Navy employee, and a nephew of Blair Monson who has been a resident here for three years at the Henry M. Holman home, 1880 Froude St.

Mail Carrier John H. Blake of route 163 of Ocean Beach entered Mercy Hospital Thursday for an operation that was scheduled to be performed this (Friday) morning. He expects to be hospitalized for about two weeks. During his absence the mail for route 163 will be carried by various other members of the Ocean Beach postoffice foot carrier force.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Holman and family and Blair Monson, who is making his home with them at 1880 Froude St., visited Sunday with relatives at Monterey Park near Los Angeles. Enroute they stopped for Sunday dinner at the noted Knotts Berry Farm. Henry is having three days vacation this week from his work in the Market Basket meat department.

Thefts Keep Ocean Beach Police Busy

Reported thefts kept the Ocean Beach police busy during the past week along with the usual run of drunks and a number of first aid cases where children were cut by broken glass on the beach or bitten by dogs. An appeal again was made to those using the beach for parties to refrain from breaking bottles and leaving the broken glass lay around in the sand.

The thefts reported included a golf bag and golf equipment and a sweater and jacket taken from Dr. W. B. Oster at the Municipal golf clubhouse grounds July 18; a $40 man's suit taken from Roy Hawkins cardroom at 5008 Newport Ave. between July 21 and 23; a $40 radio taken from Eleanor Todd from her home at 4922 Cape May Ave. about 1:30 a. m. July 22, a $24.22 calibre rifle taken from the home of Virgil Alphin, 4972 Santa Monica Ave. evidently during the night of July 25; and a Ford tractor belonging to Walter Koster of Pacific Beach, taken from his parking location in the 4800 block between Saratoga and Cape May.

Eleanor Todd reported that a sailor had broken into her home while she was in bed and taken the radio. Officers Berry and Rice arrested Dillard Prather on an Ocean Beach bus and found in his possession a radio which the Todd woman claimed was hers. The sailor claimed he had bought the radio.

Ocean Beach police arrested two sailors while driving the tractor on Ocean Beach streets. The sailors admitted taking the tractor without the owners consent, but said they needed it to pull out their car that had bogged down in the sand near the local beach.

Two boys were reported missing. One, Richard Ward, 15, of 4444 Long Branch, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Ward, was reported as having run away from home and may have gone to Otai to Mrs. Houghton's private school. The other was Billy Willis, 7, of 4886 Orchard, who was found on Newport Ave. "Soliciting alms near midnight. No other case of child neglect in this area is quite as continuous or promiscuous as this one," the police statement declared.

U. S. MAY PROVIDE MONEY TO CURE BEACH EROSION

uring these boats would cost an average of $3,000, the total boat investment would be around $9,000,000," he said.

City to Own Bay Area

Replying to a question, Rick stated that ownership of the Mission Bay area will pass from the state of California to the city of San Diego on Sept. 17.

Of the $12,000,000 estimated cost of the project, Rick declared that "we expect congress to provide $4,500,000." He also mentioned that part of the $15,000,000 that the recent California legislature had appropriated for California beaches would be used for the San Diego beaches.

Kenneth Peel, U. S. Army engineer from Los Angeles, explained the Army's plans for the flood control and the jetties at the ocean end of the proposed San Diego river outlet channel. Sand and silt from the river during floods would be carried along by the current confined in the 800-foot wide channel to the ocean and would be deposited on the beach along the shore south of the proposed jetties, he said. A jetty extending 2,000 feet out into the ocean is planned for the north side of the river channel outlet, Peel explained, while the jetty on the south side of the outlet channel will be short.

Peel estimated cost of the San Diego river flood control channel and jetties at $4,500,000. He told how the river has been silting up Mission Bay since the old government dike of 1875 diverted the flow from San Diego bay.

To Finish Survey Feb. 1

Peel said that the surveys of the parts of the Mission Bay project that the Army engineers are carrying on are to be completed and a finished report of their findings is to be submitted by Feb. 1, 1946.

Tells of Sands Changing

Dr. F. P. Shepard, marine geologist of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography at La Jolla told of studies made at the institute of beach erosion dating back for about 10 years and said he had photographs showing seasonal changes in the sands of the beaches. The studies show, he said, that the beaches build up with sand during the summer and early fall and that the sand is taken out again in the winter. He recommended that any seawalls constructed should be firmly anchored to bedrock, otherwise they would wash out. Dr. H. U. Sverdrup of the same Institute declared that beach erosion has become a national problem and for that reason its cure is justifiably a federal expense.

Others who spoke were Chairman Dave Bird of the county supervisors, County Planning Engineer L. W. Deewall, Councilman Ernest J. Boud, Mayor Clarence Anderson and Planning Director Glenn Wade of Coronado and Street Supt. Ernest Taylor of Oceanside.

In closing the hearing, Chairman Larcade announced his committee would welcome further data on beach erosion and said that same can be sent to the Subcommittee of the Rivers and Harbors committee, Congress, Washington, D. C.

School Teachers To Learn Driving To Teach Pupils

Southern California high school teachers, on vacation from the three R's, will learn how to teach others the intricacies of driving an automobile.

Registration is now in progress at the University of Southern California for a 5-day driver-education and training course for high school teachers. The course starts August 6, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Purpose of the teachers' institute is to supply Southland schools with a sufficient number of instructors in driver education and training so that local high schools will be able to train boys and girls approaching legal driving age.

The teachers will attend classroom lectures on safety and preventive maintenance, receive behind-the-wheel driving instruction, and learn to evaluate driving aptitudes on psycho-physical testing equipment.

Some 200 teachers received training in driver education teaching methods at similar institutes held in California last summer. The program proved to be unusually successful during the past school year. An expanded program is expected to begin in the high schools next fall as a result of the second training program.

Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, safety consultant to the American Automobile Association and administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety for Pennsylvania State College, will again head the staff of instructors.

This Southern California institute is being sponsored jointly by the State Department of Motor Vehicles, State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, the State Department of Education, the University of Southern California, and the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Ocean Beach Camp & Hospital

By ONA E. PITCOCK
Phone B-5639

We have an emergency call this week. The hospital must have wash cloths. There are so many many in our hospitals now that the supply of wash cloths is exhausted and as you know they are hard to buy.

Please, everyone, take your old bath towels and cut them into squares and hem for the emergency. You have done it before and you know how. Cut them 12 inches or larger and hem by hand if possible. They are softer when done by hand.

Photograph records are badly wanted. Please go over yours and donate some, also bring in any musical instruments you have.

We have many nice cakes and cookies each week but I notice some are substituting syrup for sugar. Please don't do this as the cookies will not stay brittle here at the beach. For your own family this is a wonderful idea but for the hospital it is not. If you will come up to the Center at 4769 Del Monte Ave. Red Cross will donate sugar to bake for the hospital.

Please bring all the small succulent plants you can. Do not bring the roots. Cut them and let the roots grow anew. We have sample gardens here if you would like to see them. Please come up and get work that you can do to help make a pleasant Christmas for our servicemen. We have samples and material here. Many are working but it will take thousands of decorations and the work is fascinating.

Mission Beach ladies are helping. Last year they made many beautiful decorations. We furnish the material and it is clean work.

Records Fall At Sixth Season Of Del Mar Racing

Del Mar, July 26—Del Mar's sixth season of racing was swinging merrily along today, eclipsing records at every turn. Southland turf fans, who have already seen the finest thoroughbreds in the history of the colorful seaside course, today were looking forward to Saturday's $5000 added Walter Connolly Handicap.

This mile and a sixteenth feature, for 3-year-olds and up, will mark the initial appearance of many candidates for the $10,000 added Del Mar Handicap—down for decision Aug. 25.

Among the topline steeds slated to go postward in the Connolly, which was named for the late actor who was an original stockholder at Del Mar, are Texas Sandman, Phar Rong, Canina, Sir War, Black Badge and others.

The tracks jockey brigade continued to see a close battle for leading honors between Mel Peterson, the Utah-born booter, and Jackie Westrope, for over a dozen years one of America's premier reinsmen. Going into this week's session, Peterson held a three-winner edge over Westrope.

Last Saturday saw the biggest crowd of the season, 12,945, cheer Harry N. Isenberg's sprightly 3-year-old filly—Double F. F.—to victory in the $5000 Palomar Handicap.

BEATRICE BOETTIGER AND DUDLEY PHELPS JR. WED AT CHULA VISTA SUNDAY

The Chapel of the Roses in Chula Vista was the scene Sunday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Beatrice Boettiger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Boettiger of 2685 Poinsetta Dr., and Dudley G. Phelps Jr., who is in the Merchant Marine service. Mrs. W. R. Morrison of San Diego, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Donald R. Jenkins of Los Angeles was best man.

Wearing a gown of white marquisette and a finger tip veil, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried white orchids and bouvardia. The matron of honor wore pale blue marquisette and a Juliet cap and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and yellow roses.

Honoring the couple a reception was held at the bride's home. They are now on a honeymoon trip to Laguna Beach and San Francisco, after which they will be at home in Balboa.

The bride attended Pasadena Junior College and the groom graduated from Missouri State College.

Christian Science Lesson Topic 'Truth'

"Truth" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from the Psalms: "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? . . . Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face."

A Scriptural passage from Luke relates that "a man . . . cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child. And, lo, a spirit taketh him; and he suddenly crieth out; . . . And Jesus . . . said, . . . Bring thy son hither. And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father. And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "If sickness is real, it belongs to immortality; if true, it is a part of Truth. . . . But if sickness and sin are illusions, the awakening from this mortal dream, or illusion, will bring us into health, holiness, and immortality."

DEARTH OF DATA PUZZLING

Puzzling it is that California, progressive state that it is, has so little scientific data available on beach erosion. This dearth was emphasized on the occasion of the visit here last week of a sub-committee from Congress, which committee was seeking such information.

Dr. Sverdrup of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography of La Jolla, an affiliate of the University of California, reported that scientific studies of beach erosion to any extent dated back only to 1936. He also stated that this is the only institution that has carried on such investigation in the state of California.

Apparently it is something new for anything to be done about beach erosion even though the problem is far from being in its infancy.

Unfortunately it is that reliable data on the effect of wave and storm action on the shoreline bordering the Pacific does not date back more than a few years since the longer the period over which the data can be averaged the more dependable and useful it would be.

Congressmen McDonough and Doyle, the city administration of San Diego, the Shoreline Ass'n. and others who were instrumental in getting the congressmen to make the trip out here in order to make a definite start on the solution of the problem are to be commended.

G. I. BILL REVISED

The revision made in the GI Bill by the House and which the Senate is expected to approve, should make the educational and loan provisions of that act much more helpful to American war veterans.

Ex-servicemen will now have four years, instead of two, after discharge from service in which to commence study courses, and monthly educational subsistence allowance has been raised from $50 to $60 for vets without dependents and from $75 to $85 for those with dependents.

As to lending regulations, the House cut some red tape which has made the obtaining of government guaranteed loans a protracted process by removing the provision requiring lenders to submit all loan applications to the Veterans' Administration in Washington for its final approval.

Rules governing property appraisals were also adjusted so as to make them more practical under present real estate conditions.

These changes should enable banks and other lending agencies to make loans to a greater number of veterans. Up to the present time financial institutions, although making every effort to assist loan-seeking vets, have been so restricted by the regulations of the Veterans' Administration that the actual number of loans made thus far has been comparatively small.

Although most changes reported thus far in Washington dispatches apply principally to home loans, it is hoped that a fuller report will show that much-needed adjustments on the rules governing business loans to vets were also included.

The story is told about the bells that ring in a little village in the foothills of the Alleghenies. In the Year of Our Lord 1865, the folk of Pleasant Valley created an inspiring memorial to loved ones lost in the Civil War.

Into one mighty heap they piled the relics of the war's bitter battles. The old brass cannon, the battered muskets, the broken swords, and rusted bayonets. They melted them all down, and from this litter of war the gentle bells of Pleasant Valley were cast, to ring out over fields and farms through the years of Peace.

Real Estate Sales Up In Ocean Beach And Entire City

Real estate sales in Ocean Beach jumped to 60 in June, as compared with 55 in June 1944 and 42 in June 1943, according to the Southern Title Real Estate Barometer for July 1.

For the first half of 1945 there were 381 real estate sales in Ocean Beach, as compared with 263 in the first half of 1944 and 199 in the first half of 1943.

Increases also are shown for Pt. Loma, Loma Portal, La Playa, the total for June this year being 90, for June 1944 the total was 45 and for June 1943 a total of only 37. First half of 1945 these sales totaled 429 as compared with 300 for the first half of 1944 and 252 for the first half of 1943.

For all of the city of San Diego this July 1 report shows 1189 real estate sales for June, 1945, 1071 for June 1944 and 868 for June 1943; 7239 for the first half of 1945, 5889 for the first half of 1944 and 4206 for the first half of 1943. Apparently the increases have been general throughout the city.

PERSONALS.

Jerry Martin of the Susie-Q on Newport Ave. had the hard luck Monday forenoon of tripping at his place of business and breaking his right shoulder blade in the resultant fall. As a result he was carrying his arm around in a sling this week.

Mrs. C. Boone Sadler of 4844 Del Mar Ave. is enjoying a visit from her sister, Miss Annie Lee Beck of Raleigh, N. C. Miss Beck came by plane and plans to stay all summer.

Mrs. Rose Kas, a former resident of Ocean Beach, and now a resident of Fontana, is here for a visit with Pay Clerk and Mrs. G. M. Taylor of 4621 Castellar St.

Kenneth Fold, Harold Holmes and George Taylor Jr., all students of Point Loma high school, are employed this summer by the U. S. Forestry Service and are now located at Mt. Lassen National Park.

Mrs. Glenn Jones, formerly Doris Marcum, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Marcum of 1982 Bacon St., fell on July 17 and broke her left leg and likely will be laid up for at least two months. Her husband is on Patuxent river, Md., on duty with the Navy and Mrs. Jones had come here just a month before her accident. She is being cared for at the Paradise Valley hospital.

IN THE SERVICE.

The casualty lists the past week had the name of Richard Mount an assistant cook in the U. S. Marine Corps, listed among the wounded. He is a brother of Mrs. Alice B. Parker whose home is given as 4515 Long Branch Ave.

Robert E. Wood, fireman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wood of 4580 Narragansett Ave. has arrived home on leave from the west Pacific, including Okinawa and other island campaigns there. On this trip he was out for 17 months and arrived home on July 19. His leave is for 30 days.

Donald R. Martin, seaman first class, visited with his father, Jerry Martin of 4745 Newport Ave. over the week-end, having come over from the Santa Margarita Ranch, where he is convalescing. He was injured while on duty with a minesweeper in the Pacific as result of a Jap bomb. He had been overseas for 14 months. He brought home a large group of pictures showing his fighting on Saipan and other islands, pictures that provide plenty of evidence that war continues to be hell.

SWEET-KRUDWIG WEDDING HELD AT LOCAL CHURCH

Jane Walsh Sweet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walsh of 4771 Voltaire St. and R. Robert Krudwig USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Krudwig of Fondu Lac, Wis., were married Saturday evening in the Sacred Heart church. Fr. Edward F. Hannon officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was stunning in a soldier blue suit with brown accessories. Her flowers were brown orchids.

Mrs. J. C. Lay, the former Patricia Walsh, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a watermelon pink suit, with white accessories. Her flowers were gardenias. Miss Betty Boech acted as bridesmaid. She was becomingly attired in a gold suit with brown accessories and carried gardenias.

Ervin Dunn USMC, a fellow Marine from El Centro, was best man.

The church was artistically decorated in multi-colored gladioli and fern. Mrs. Mahen, church organist played the wedding marches.

A reception followed the wedding, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. C. Lay, 4761 Orchard Ave. Mrs. T. A. Walsh, mother of the bride, received in a smart navy blue ensemble with corsage of gladioli. About 50 guests attended. The table was centered with a wedding cake which was cut and served by Mrs. Phyllis Luxemburg. Mrs. Dorothy McNight served the punch. Red roses, sent by the parents of the groom from Fondu Lac, highlighted the table decorations. Mrs. Krudwig is a Point Loma high school graduate. Mr. Krudwig, a marine navigator, attended school in Fondu Lac. The bride has been employed at the Naval Fuel annex. The couple left Sunday morning for Los Angeles. After a short honeymoon trip the groom will return to El Centro for reassignment to duty, which makes their future plans indefinite.

In the second torpedoing, the Master of the ship was pinned down by a cargo boom. Galza cut him free and lowered him to a raft just before the ship sank. War Bonds bought and held will provide ships and gear for the Merchant Marine.

Two important new railroad travel restrictions have been ordered by the U. S. Office of Defense Transportation.

Under O. D. T. Order #52, you cannot reserve a train berth or seat more than five days in advance.

Under O. D. T. Order #53, all Pullman sleeping cars operating for 450 miles or less have been discontinued.

While these regulations will cause some inconvenience, we feel sure everyone will approve the effort to serve better the men from overseas to whom we owe so much. We know that the families of boys who are coming home will have no question as to the merits of the orders.

As far as Southern Pacific is concerned, our guiding principle has been "the military comes first," and we are cooperating one hundred percent in carrying out the O. D. T. orders—in letter, and in spirit.

With nearly twenty thousand S. P. men and women in the armed forces, we, too, have a real and personal interest in the welfare and comfort of service men and women.

These two orders apply to all railroads. Admittedly, they are drastic—but vitally necessary. Additional sleeping cars must be made available for veterans returning from Europe for discharge or for redeployment to the Pacific.

Lockwoods Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Their Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Willard B. Lockwood attained 50 years of married life together Sunday, July 15, and celebrated the golden wedding at their home, 4896 Long Branch Ave. with the help of their many friends and neighbors. They kept "open house" during the afternoon and evening.

Refreshments, of which two big wedding cakes were the feature, were served to the guests. In that connection the greatest surprise for the honored couple was a wedding cake that they received from the Bekins Van & Storage Co. A neighbor of the Lockwoods had heard over the radio that Bekins was giving an anniversary cake to every San Diego couple that might be observing their golden wedding on July 15, date of the Bekins golden wedding, with the result that an entire stranger came to the Lockwoods' door July 15 bearing the cake as a gift for them.

Neighbors of the couple provided the second wedding cake. For the cake and the numerous flowers given them Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood ask that their neighbors be publicly thanked.

From their only son and child, Lieut. David S. Lockwood of the U. S. Navy, headquarters in Washington, D. C., they have received congratulations and the promise of a girl now on the way here. The naval officer, whose wife lives at Long Beach, has been in the Navy for about 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood were married July 15, 1895 in Kalamazoo, Mich. and lived many years in Detroit, where he was a foreman in the upholstery department of the Hudson and Chalmers auto factories. Though 71 he is employed every day at somewhat similar work for the Navy at North Island. "We came to Ocean Beach 19 years ago and have lived here ever since," reports Mrs. Lockwood, who is three years younger than her husband. She was particularly enthusiastic in telling about the friendliness of their neighbors.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

ENGAGEMENTS OF TWO DAUGHTERS OF MR. AND MRS. ORRICK ANNOUNCED

Engagements of two of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Orrick, 4542 Bermuda Ave., were announced this week. Betrothal of Miss Doris Orrick was announced on her recent return home from the state of Washington, where she and her fiancé, John Van Meter, platoon sergeant of the Marine Corps, visited his parents while he was on a 30-day leave following his return home from 27 months of duty overseas with the Marine Corps. He is now stationed at Camp Mathews near San Diego.

Miss Jean Orrick, a graduate of Point Loma high school, expects to be married in September to Jack R. Wilson, as soon as he is out of Birmingham hospital in Van Nuys, Calif. She is now staying with her grandmother in Los Angeles in order to be near him.

USO News . . .

(By Mrs. Georgia Brock)

Many things are done in the USO besides making a lonely boy feel at home and helping a returned veteran find a place in the world. Here are a few things which happened at the USO club-rooms last Saturday night: A serviceman and his wife came in with a deed which had to be notarized and put in the mail at once. As it was Saturday night they were unable to do so. However, a notary was found, the deed was properly notarized, mailed and reached its destination by Monday morning.

Another boy came in looking for an aunt of his girl who lives in Idaho. All he knew was the aunt's name, but she was located and proved to be Mrs. Josephine Carpenter, who operated The Kid-die-Wear shop on Bacon St.

The next boy, who lives on Abbott St., had a chicken, but no ice at home to keep it. A neighbor was called and the chicken was placed in her refrigerator to be preserved for the boy's Sunday dinner.

So the club attendants are busy solving all problems brought in to them and seldom is one too complicated or too difficult that it cannot be worked out in some way.

IN THE SERVICE -

Announcement was made this week of the award of a commendation ribbon to Lieut. Jack R. Hislop of 5018 Voltaire St. He is in the Naval Reserve.

Pvt. Jake Eatmon Jr., whose wife is listed as living at 2088 Abbott St., is now on duty with a Fourth Marine division regiment in the Pacific.

Sgt. Shelby M. Fly has been assigned to duty at Casablanca, North Africa, with the Air Transport Command's North African division. His wife is listed as residing at 4148 Long Branch Ave.

Lieut. Robert M. Lommasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall T. Lommasson of 4983 Brighton Ave., is now in transition training at Randolph Field, Texas, in preparation for an overseas combat assignment on a B-29 Superfortress.

Pvt. Ralph M. Robins, son-in-law of Mrs. Henry Lajoie of 4975 Del Monte Ave. has returned home from Europe on a 60-day furlough. He had the harrowing experience of being a prisoner of war for three months, during which period he lost 30 pounds in weight. On his arrival he greeted his second little daughter, who was born on June 19.

Calvin D. Andre T/5, son of Mrs. Henry Lajoie of 4975 Del Monte Ave., writes his mother that he is now in Manila in the Philippine Islands, and mentions in particular that the weather there is both hot and wet and the ground extra muddy. He writes that Manila is practically leveled to the ground and that prices there are "clear out of sight." Cigarettes are 50 cents a package. The Filipinos are friendly and are trying hard to adjust themselves to the present conditions," he says.

Recent word from Pfc. Wm. Kenneth Johnson of 2063 Capistrano St., reports that he has received the Bronze Star and citation for "meritorious service in combat in the Apennine Mountains in Italy Feb. 20 to March 26, 1945. Working in the battalion forward observation post Pfc. Johnson performed outstanding services during a vital period in the operations of his unit." Kenneth is a graduate of Point Loma High, attended State College and Oregon State. He is in Hdq. Co. 3rd Battalion a part of the famed 10th Mt. Division and at present is in the Austrian Alps in Regimental Glacier School helping instruct in ice and glacier work.
